

Shadow Culture

tomorrow's emotions shadowed by today better or worse..... only time can say endings and beginnings wait to unfold secrets and stories waiting to be told why is it as humans we always want more we eat the apple and throw away the core in the shadow of the day between the water and the wind something must end for something to begin