

ZERO TWO ZERO TWO ZERO

just when i thought i had it all figured out i had to back to school it was no fun at all watching everything fall and it sure as hell wasn't cool i did my part to flatten the curve but then the coast caught fire it didn't take long to lose my nerve and the flames are getting higher i discovered i needed the rest of the world or at least a part time hero but all i found were masks on the ground all i found was zero..... two zero two zero

empires come and empires go that's what is happening now born again fools watch their leader glow as he sacrifices the sacred cow we have our leaders, Rome had Nero but all that's left is zero
two zero two zero

i feel for the kids who are back to class we'll see what the numbers say we'll see if the rain we so badly need falls from the sky today twenty twenty sucks beyond belief it feels like life is in escrow i could use a little comic relief but all there is is zero

two zero two zero
